Joseph Smith Did Not Believe the Book of Mormon, So Why Should Anyone Else?

DENNIS A. WRIGHT, DMIN

In 1844 Joseph Smith declared that the Book of Mormon was “the most correct of any book on earth, and the keystone of our religion, and a man would get nearer to God by abiding by its precepts than by any other book.” (Teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith, p. 194, and History of the Church, 4:461) One would think that the prophet would found his church upon the teachings of this “keystone” book.

Let’s see if he did. Ask yourself the following twenty questions and try to chapter-and-verse them with the Book of Mormon.

Twenty Questions

1. Where does the Book of Mormon teach that Elohim (God the Father in Mormonism) was once a mortal man and that he was not always God?
2. Where does the Book of Mormon teach that God has a body of flesh and bones?
3. Where does the Book of Mormon teach that God is married in heaven?
4. Where does the Book of Mormon teach that men can become Gods?
5. Where does the Book of Mormon teach that temple participation is necessary to become exalted?

20. Where does the Book of Mormon teach that the highest level within the celestial kingdom is the "Church of the Firstborn"?

Frustrated and confused? Joseph Smith apparently did not believe the teachings of the very book that he proclaimed in the Introduction to the Book of Mormon as "the most correct of any book on earth!" This presumable fact can be demonstrated by careful examination of these twenty distinctive teachings of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. If you had difficulty locating these teachings, then read on, for, in fact, they cannot be found in this “most correct” book. The Book of Mormon does not teach that:

1. God was once a mortal man— If you said it doesn't, you're right. The Book of Mormon never says God was once a mortal. In fact, it teaches that God was always God. Take for instance Moroni 8:18. It says God is unchangeable from all eternity to all eternity. Joseph Smith, however taught, “We have imagined and supposed that God was God from all eternity, I will refute that idea, and take away the veil so that you may see” (Teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith, 345).
2. God has a body of flesh— If you said it doesn't, you're right. The Book of Mormon never says God has a body of flesh and bones. On more than one occasion it clearly teaches that God is a God of spirit (see Alma 18:2-5, 24-28; Alma 22:9-11). This is taught in Doctrine & Covenants 130:22, See also Parley P. Pratt, Key to the Science of Theology, 1978 ed, 23.
3. God is married—if you said it doesn't, you're right. The Book of Mormon never teaches that God is married. This was taught by LDS Apostle Orson Pratt (The Seer, 37, 158).
4. Men can become Gods—If you said it doesn't, you're right. The Book of Mormon never says men can become Gods. This was publicly proclaimed by the Prophet Joseph Smith on April 7, 1844 at the general conference of the LDS Church in Nauvoo. Known as the “King Follett Discourse,” it is recorded in the Journal of Discourses 8:1-11. See also The Teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith, 342-362, and the teachings of the Prophet Lorenzo Snow quoted by Milton R. Hunter in The Gospel Through the Ages, 105-106.
5. Temple participation is necessary—If you said it doesn't, you're right. The Book of Mormon never mentions that men must participate in temple ordinances in order to become exalted. This is found in Doctrine & Covenants 131:1-4. See also Bruce R. McConkie, Mormon Doctrine, 779.
6. Jesus and Lucifer are brothers— If you said it doesn't, you're right. The Book of Mormon never teaches Jesus and Lucifer are brothers. This is found in Milton R. Hunter, The Gospel Through the Ages, 15.
7. The cleansing power of Christ's blood is not always sufficient—If you said it doesn't, you're right. Never does the Book of Mormon hint that there are sins beyond the cleansing power of Christ's blood. However, second LDS Prophet Brigham Young taught, “There is not a man or woman, who violates the covenants made with their God, that will not be required to pay the debt. The blood of Christ will never wipe out, your own blood must atone for it; and the judgments of the Almighty will come, sooner or later, and every man and woman will have to atone for breaking their covenants (Discourses of Brigham Young, 385). Mormon Apostle Bruce McConkie wrote, “But under certain circumstances there are some serious sins for which the cleansing of Christ does not operate, and the law of God is that men must have their own blood shed to atone for their sins” (Mormon Doctrine, 92).

8. Baptism for the dead— If you said it doesn't you're right. The Book of Mormon never teaches baptism for the dead is a necessary ordinance. In fact, the Book of Mormon teaches if a person dies in his sins, the devil has sealed him his and this is the final state of the wicked (see Alma 34:34,35). However, tenth LDS President Joseph Fielding Smith stated, “If we willfully neglect the salvation of our dead, then also we shall stand rejected of the Lord, because we have neglected our dead; and just so sure their blood will be required at our hands...we cannot be saved without them” (Doctrine of Salvation, 2:145,149).
9. The Plurality of Gods— If you said it doesn't, you're right. The Book of Mormon never teaches there is a plurality of Gods. In fact, it strongly teaches there is only one true God (see Alma 1:26-29) This was proclaimed by the Prophet Joseph Smith, History of the Church, 6:475.
10. The Priesthood— If you said it doesn't, you're right. The Book of Mormon never mentions either the Aaronic or Melchizedek priesthood. You will find this in Gospel Principles, 73.
11. Can't drink coffee or tea— If you said it doesn't, you're right. This is taken from Doctrine and covenants 89. Still this health law never mentions coffee or tea specifically, only “hot drinks.” Mormon General Authority George Q. Cannon included soup in this prohibition when he said, “We must not permit them to drink liquor or hot drinks, or hot soups or use tobacco or other articles that are injurious” (Journal of Discourses, 12:223).
12. Three degrees of glory— If you said it doesn't, you're right. The telestial, terrestrial, and celestial kingdoms are never mentioned in the Book of Mormon. See Bruce R. McConkie, Mormon Doctrine, 777-778.
13. The Holy Ghost is a Son of God— If you said it doesn't, you're right. Only Jesus and those who embrace Christ as their savior are given that title in the Book of Mormon. Under the heading of “Holy Ghost,” The Encyclopedia of Mormonism, Vol. 2, states,

Lion and Lamb Apologetics

“The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints teaches that the Holy Ghost is a spirit man, a spirit son of God the Father.”

14. Polygamy was approved by God— If you said it doesn't, your right. Polygamy is never mentioned in a positive way in the Book of Mormon, it is always described as an abominable practice. However, LDS Prophet Joseph F. Smith taught that polygamy was essential to exaltation (Journal of Discourses, 20:28)
15. A man must have a woman to be saved— If you said it doesn't, you're right. The Book of Mormon never teaches that. However, Brigham Young taught, “No man can be perfect without the woman, so no woman can be perfect without the man to lead her. I tell you the truth as it is in the bosom of eternity. If he wishes to be saved, he cannot be saved without a woman by his side” (as quoted by Spencer W. Kimball, The Miracle of Forgiveness, 245). See also Improvement Era, Vol. 21, Dec. 1917, 105-106, as well as Joseph F. Smith, Gospel Doctrine, p. 272.
16. Protective Garments— If you said it doesn't you're right. The Book of Mormon never mentions “garments of the Holy Priesthood” yet Temple Mormons are told that if they do not defile them, the garment will “be a shield and a protection” to them against the power of the Destroyer. This is found in Bruce R. McConkie, The Mortal Messiah, 2:295. See also Teachings of Ezra Taft Benson, 357.
17. Doctrine to be voted on— If you said it doesn't, you're right. Never were the words of the Book of Mormon prophets sustained by the believers in the Book of Mormon in order to be considered official teachings. The LDS vote “to sustain” official teachings as well as church officials. However, see Bruce R. McConkie, Mormon Doctrine, 149-150.
18. The Seed of Cain— If you said it doesn't, you're right. This abominable concept is not to be found in the Book of Mormon. However, third LDS Prophet John Taylor said, “And after the flood we are told that the curse that had been pronounced upon Cain was continued through Ham's wife, as he had married a woman of that seed. And why did it pass through the flood? Because it was necessary that the devil should have a representation upon the earth as well as God.” (Journal of Discourses, 22:304).
19. God having a father and a grandfather— if you said it doesn't, you're right. However, Joseph Smith claimed, “If Jesus Christ was the Son of God, and John discovered that God the Father of Jesus Christ had a Father, you may suppose that He had a Father also”. (Teachings of the Prophet Joseph Smith), 373.

20. The Church of the Firstborn— If you said it doesn't, you're right. Such an expression is never used in the Book of Mormon. The Church of the Firstborn is found in Doctrine and Covenants 76:94 and The History of the Church 1:283.

Therefore, if Joseph Smith did not really believe the Book of Mormon, then why should you—or anyone else? Now that's a very good question!!!

I know how I would answer it!!! How about you?
