Lion and Lamb Apologetics Update

- Thanks to the generosity of our friends, we have received sufficient funds to replace our main computer. Rather than buying something “off the shelf” that may (or may not) suffice, we are having one built by a computer expert in Oklahoma. He has designed this computer with massive amounts of RAM memory and two Four Terabyte solid state hard drives. This will more than meet our needs right now and can be expanded in the future if the need arises. Thanks again to all you who donated!
- As of today, we now have people in 124 counties using our website. And they are literally from every nook and cranny of this planet.
- We have had a number of questions presented to us in recent weeks that seem to be of great interest to many people. This month we present three of them and you will find links to the original documents. As always, your questions are appreciated!

What is a Christian Worldview?

A “worldview” refers to a comprehensive conception of the world from a specific standpoint. A “Christian worldview,” then, is a comprehensive conception of the world from a Christian standpoint. An individual’s worldview is his “big picture,” a harmony of all his beliefs about the world. It is his way of understanding reality. One’s worldview is the basis for making daily decisions and is therefore extremely important.

Only One Way

Bruce Ware explains that “Three positions abound today on the question of whether Christ is the only way to salvation. All three can be detected by how each answers these two fundamental questions: First, is Jesus the only Savior? More fully: Is the sinless life of Christ and His atoning death and resurrection the only means by which the penalty of sin is paid and the power of sin defeated? Second, is faith in Christ necessary to be saved? More fully: Is conscious knowledge of Christ’s death and resurrection for sin and explicit

Pagan Mysticism Promoted as Spiritual Growth

Bob DeWaay

DeWaay writes: "To understand my critique of Enneagram we need to understand two important religious worldviews. The first is the worldview I endorse and is the view of Christian theism through the ages. Christian theism says that the Triune God of the Bible existed as God from all eternity. God as Father, Son and Holy Spirit existed before anything was created. This means that God is non-contingent. God was perfect in all His divine attributes before anything was created. Once God created, He was and always is transcendent to the creation. The transcendent Creator cannot be dependent on His own creation. This quality is called 'aseity' in Christian theology.

"A view that is very popular today denies the transcendence of God in important ways. This view is called panentheism. A simple way of explaining panentheism is that 'God is in everything.' "
